

We were excited to explore opportunities with NNR and right from the start, we knew it would be a good fit for our business.

The Happy Puzzle Co.

Whist recently rapidly expanding and enhancing its E-commerce platform, NNR reached out to several suitable 'famous' brands, including The Happy Puzzle Co, a market leading games company that offer a fantastic range of over 300 award-winning puzzles, games, challenges and puzzle books to both families and schools.

Similar to NNR UK, 'Happy Puzzle' have been around a long while now, over quarter of a century in fact, and are similarly focused on delivering best-in-class products that are unique to their business. During 2019 they decided they needed an improved route to market and streamlined operations. At that stage they engaged with several companies with the firm focus to improve the service received by their valued customers and their staff internally.

Gavin Ucko, Managing Director and founder of Happy Puzzle, explained: "We explored lots of options before meeting NNR but were excited when we met as we knew immediately that NNR would be a good fit for our business. Additional benefits were their brand-new facility and investment in technology. We now enjoy flexibility and a fast response to enquiries".
